DR. FREDRIC BRANDT

317 E. 34th St., nr. Second Ave.

212-889-7096; drbrandskincare.com

For rosy cheeks that result from a mild or severe case of pustular and comedonal acne, Isolaz will alleviate an imperfect bridal blush. The twenty-minute, painless procedure (your face is slightly warm afterwards but there is no redness) first uses broadband-light therapy to destroy bacteria and battle rosacea. Brandt then suctions the oil out of pores. This treatment takes four to five sessions (one per month), and you can see immediate results: smaller pores and clearer skin by the following morning after the first visit. From $500 a session.
